

Provident Trust Strategy Fund (PROVX)

Quarterly Review – June 30, 2021

Investment Objective - Seeks long-term growth of capital by investing mainly in a limited number of multi-capitalization growth stocks.

Manager - The Provident Trust Strategy Fund (the “Fund”) is advised by Provident Trust Company (“Provident”) of Waukesha, WI. Provident was founded in 1999 and is controlled by the principals of the firm.

Investment Professionals – J. Scott Harkness, CFA, Chairman and CEO of Provident, is responsible for the day-to-day management of the Fund.

Strategy - Provident is a concentrated core growth equity manager seeking to exceed the S&P 500 index return over full investment cycles. (A typical investment cycle last 5-7 years and includes both a 30% advance and a 20% decline.) The Fund can flexibly allocate assets between stocks, bonds and money markets to moderate volatility, and selects common stocks of all market capitalizations. Stock selection criteria include improving revenue and earnings growth, increasing margins, significant management stock ownership, and upward valuation potential. The Fund is a non-diversified investment company; please see the prospectus for further details.

Manager Commentary – Provident Trust Strategy Fund (PROVX) gained +11.23% vs. the S&P 500’s +8.55% for the quarter ended June 30, 2021. During Provident’s tenure as portfolio manager (beginning September 9, 2002), PROVX gained +679.44% cumulatively with a 79.8% average month-end allocation to equities vs. +594.97% for the always fully invested S&P 500. Top performers for the quarter ended 6/30/21 were Alphabet, Inc. (Class A&C), PayPal Holdings, Inc. and T. Rowe Price Group, Inc. while Visa, Inc., Home Depot and Fastenal, Inc. underperformed. The “real” S&P 500 return since 1999 is only 5.4% per year, well below the 12.5% average return since 1926 during previous periods of moderate 0 – 4% inflation. We contend the $70t growth in consumer net worth since 2009 will continue to absorb T-Fed’s quantitative easing, deficit spending and financial subsidies. We forecast 2021 S&P 500 earnings of $210+ valued at 20 – 25X for a price range of 4200 - 5000+.

We traded no equity securities during the second quarter.

Note: Returns for periods longer than one year are annualized. Returns may not match those reported by other sources such as Morningstar due to slight valuation differences at the end of the reporting period.

The returns do not reflect the deduction of taxes that a shareholder would pay on Fund distributions or the redemption of Fund shares. Performance data quoted represents past performance; past performance does not guarantee future results. The investment return and principal value of an investment will fluctuate so that an investor's shares, when redeemed, may be worth more or less than their original cost. Current performance since the above time period may be higher or lower than the performance quoted. Performance data current to the most recent month end may be obtained by visiting www.provtrust.com. Earnings growth is not a measure of the Fund's future performance.

Provident Trust Strategy Fund (PROVX)

Quarterly Review – June 30, 2021

S&P 500 Index: An unmanaged index, consisting of 500 selected common stocks, commonly used to measure the performance of U.S. stocks. An investment cannot be made directly in an index.

P/E ratio (trailing one year): The weighted average of the price/earnings ratios of the stocks in the Fund's portfolio based on the previous 12 months of earnings per share.

P/E ratio (forward 1 year): The weighted average price/earnings ratios of the stocks in the Fund's portfolio using forecasted earnings for the following twelve months. Forecasted earnings are just an estimate and are not as reliable as current earnings data.

Return on Equity: The ratio of Net Income to shareholders equity.

Market Capitalization: Market cap is the value of all a company's outstanding shares.

Earnings per Share (EPS): The portion of a company's profit allocated to each outstanding share of common stock.

Active Share: A measure of the percentage of stock holdings in a manager's portfolio that differ from the benchmark index.

Quantitative Easing: Monetary policy in which a central bank purchases longer-term securities from the open market in order to increase the money supply and encourage lending and investment.

Expense Ratio: As per the Fund's January 31, 2021 Prospectus, the total annual Fund operating expenses as a percentage of the value of your investment, which incorporates indirect fees and expenses that the Fund incurs from investing in the shares of other mutual funds including money markets, otherwise known as Acquired Fund Fee Expenses or AFFE was 0.97%. Provident has contractually agreed to cap the ratio of expenses to average net assets at 1.00% through January 31, 2022.

Mutual Fund investing involves risk. Principal loss is possible. The Fund is non-diversified, meaning it may concentrate its assets in fewer individual holdings than a diversified fund. Therefore, the Fund is more exposed to individual stock volatility than a diversified fund. The Fund may invest in smaller and medium sized companies, which involve additional risk such as more limited liquidity and greater volatility. Investments in debt securities typically decrease in value when interest rates rise. This is risk is usually greater for longer-term debt securities. The Fund may invest in money market funds. An investment in a money market fund is neither insured nor guaranteed by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation or any other government agency. Although the money market fund seeks to preserve the value of an investment at $1.00 per share, it is possible to lose money by investing in the fund.

Fund holdings are subject to change and are not recommendations to buy or sell any security.
